

COLONIAL MOBILIZATION IN AFRICA AND ASIA

DURING THE SECOND WORLD WAR:

SOLDIERS, LABOURERS AND WOMEN

This international conference focuses on the policies and praxis of the empires in the mobilization and deployment of their colonial subjects as well as the various strategies employed by the mobilized people and societies, and reconsiders World War II from the perspective of the colonial world of Africa and Asia.

Particularly, but not limited to the mobilization and deployment of soldiers and other form of labourers as well as women;

the trans-colonial and trans-imperial mobility of the colonized people;

the continuity of the “wartime” and the “peacetime” mobilization under colonialism;

gender aspect of colonial mobilizations.

Language: English
Admission Free ✓
Campus Information:
<http://www.kyoto-u.ac.jp/en/access/>
Contact: colmob2018@gmail.com

Day 1 22 March (Thu)

10:00-10:15 Opening

Yoko Nagahara
(Kyoto University)

10:15-11:00 Keynote Speech 1 David Killingray
(Emeritus, University of London)

11:00-12:30 Session 1: Mobilization 1

14:00-14:30 Keynote Speech 2 Ruth Ginio
(Ben-Gurion University of the Negev)

14:30-16:00 Session 2: Mobilization 2

16:30-18:00 Session 3: Mobility

@ Rakuyu-Kaikan
Yoshida-South Campus
Kyoto University

Day 2 23 March (Fri)

09:30-10:00 Keynote Speech 3 Tekeste Negash
(Emeritus, Uppsala University)

10:00-11:30 Session 4: Continuity

13:00-13:30 Keynote Speech 4 Christelle Taraud
(NYU Paris & CRHXIX, Universities Paris 1/Paris 2)

13:30-15:00 Session 5: Gender

15:30-17:30 General Discussion

17:30-17:45 Closing

Each Session has 4-5 presentations

第二次世界大戦におけるアフリカ・アジア植民地の動員
—兵士・労働者・女性—