

11th Next-Generation Global Workshop

第11回次世代グローバルワークショップ

Self, Others and Community

November 10–11, 2018

The ideas of self, others and community are closely interwoven with each other. Also they may differ from one society to another, and one era to another. In the 11th NEXT GENERATIONS GLOBAL WORKSHOP, we will explore how those ideas are formed and interrelated one another in a given social and historical setting, from the viewpoint of philosophy, sociology, literature and other disciplines in humanities and social sciences. We will also emphasize Asian perspectives on those ideas, though not excluding any others.

The Next-Generation Global Workshop (NGGW) has been held annually since 2008 to provide an opportunity for early-career scholars to present their research and to have feedback from an international audience. The workshop has served as a forum for scholars of different generations from various regions to build a common academic foundation by redefining Asia in the global context.
